

Beach Kindy - Little Footprints

4 hour program at NBEEC

Kindy students will have the opportunity to connect and contribute to their world. They will show respect for diversity by learning about Aboriginal culture and respect for the environment by exploring interactions between people and the environment.

This program enhances the capacity of senior students through a 'Kids teaching kids' concept enabling the opportunity to develop intercultural connections through sharing cultural knowledge across generations.

Students will become nature scientists, confident and active in their learning, as they connect with many outdoor learning spaces during the day. These natural spaces will invite open-ended interactions, exploration, discovery and connection with nature.

Students will develop as effective communicators as they explore and expand language through listening and responding. First Nations language will be integrated throughout the day through greetings, group animal names, symbols and counting patterns.
